SEMINAR CONTENT

The JMG two-day seminar aims to enhance the knowledge about the history of Jewish communities in Greece, Germany, Poland, and Serbia. In addition to short lectures, participants will attend specially designed workshops, based on testimonials, documents and other material.

Participants are invited to develop their own lesson plans based on the material presented. Focusing on the European dimension of the Holocaust, participants will also discuss the key antisemitic myths and stereotypes that are still present in everyday school life, as well as ways to tackle them effectively.
